Identifying and profiling 300 oncologists involved in treating gall bladder cancer in the USA

- A thorough desk research conducted to identify experienced professionals across different cities in the US.
- Criteria to identify KOLs – years of experience, conference attendance, scientific literature publications, etc.

- Excel data helped client to establish their network among oncologists by sending their medical reps and eventually increasing uptake of their drug

ILLUSTRATION